Hancock People Want ration for the inter-association field day. a New Fire Engine House

In the Center of the Town.

The Caucus Called for Last Evening Turns Out to Be a Joke-It Endorsed the Democrats.

The citizens' cancus "called to nominate candidates not dominated by ring rule" was a peach. Quite a crowd gathered out of curiosity excited by the call and the banner stretched scross the front of the Fire Engine House all day, placed there at an early hour that morning by no one knows who. Whether the call was first made with other purpose than a joke will probably never be known, for with Paddy Mechan as chairman and Tom Ryan as secretary the caucus lasted just long enough to endorse the whole democratic ticket. Mr. Mechan said, on taking the chair, that he did not know the object of the caucus or why he was there bimself, and after putring the motion of endorsement, the motion to adjourn having been made, dismissed the citizens of the reform movement' with " hose in favor of this motion please go home."

Now that the village of Hancock bas been enlarged and the town shows such a decided tendency to grow westward, a good many citizens think that the location of the fire department beadquarters should be changed to nearer the g-ographical center of the territory it is designed to protect. As it is now, the fire engine house is located at the extreme east end of the town necessitating a long run for most of the firemen to get out the apparatus and then a doubling of is the best hotel, not only in Hancock, but in the Upper Peninsula, is situated on the business street and is steam seated throughout Rates, $2 and $2.50; baths in connection with $2.50 ooms. 46 transient rooms. their steps in a good many cases to reach the scene of a fire. About a year ago nembers of the village council made inquiries as to the advisability of several beces of property along Quincy street or purchase and use by the village, but or some reason the matter was dropped. The News has beard it discussed recently and it may be that it will be brought to the attention of the new council.

John Moran, an aged citizen of Sidnaw, came up to Houghton yesterday tolodge a complaint with the county officials. He claimed to have been robb d of $64 while asleep in a room in the Frontier House. Prosecuting Attorney Streeter investigated the case, but from what he could learn there seemed but little u-e in issuing a warrant when the old man Abstracts of Title furnished. Taxes paid could not fasten suspicion on any particular person. About noon a telegram was received from Marshal Flemming, of Sidnaw, saying he had a man spotted for the robbery and Sheriff Dunn left on the afternoon train armed with a war ant sworn out by Moran before Justice August Pelto Brand. The Frontier House, in which the robbery is alleged to have taken place, is kept by one John W. Griffiths and bas a hard name for just such transactions as the one in question.

His estate is a sandy plain which slopes from one end to the other. His first step is to divide it into counterparts by raising low walls or partitions of clay. They are usually 1½ feet thick and 2 feet high. Where it is difficult to get clay he constructs the wall of the stones he finds in the soil or of broken bricks and LEISON I .- The Forerunner of Christ (Luke t. 5-17). Golden Text, Luke t. 76, Thou shalt go before the face of the Lord "Thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare His ways." The standing of Zacharlas and Klizabeth is given in the phrase "Hightcous before God." How prectous when man and wife are thus one in Clerist forever. Their daily life is summarized in "whiking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless" (verse "). The grandest thing about their child John was that he would be "Grent in the sight of the Lord and filled with the Holy Spirit from his birth" a graphophone concert at the Hancock with the Holy Spirit from his birth' (verse 15). Observe the phrases 'Esfora God.' 'Before Him,' in verses 8, 17.

Lesson II.—The Boy Jesus (Luke it, 40.52). Golden Text, Luke it, 55, ''Jesus increased in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man." Observe the "Fear Note" of the angels to Zacharias, "Fear Note" of the angels to Zacharias, Mary and the shepherds (t. 13, 30; il. 10) and let it be God's word to you. Notice their "Gind Tidlings" (t. 19; ii, 10) and be a hearer of the same (Rom z. 15). Let us magnify the Lord as did Mary and Zacharias, and the angels, and the shepherds (t. 40, 63; il. 14, 20). Let the first recorded atterance of Him who always pleased the Father, "about my Father's business" (ii. 40) be one of our daily mottees.

49) be one of our daily mottees.

LESSON III.—The Ministry of John the Baptist (Luke III, 15-22). Golden Text. John t, 29, "Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." John, like his Master, sought no honor for himself, content to be a voice, heard and not seen. Content to decrease if only He might increase; content to have all his disciples leave him to follow Jesus. His greatest cry was that of the Golden Text, "Behold the Lamb of God." Jesus hum-bles Hinself to be baptized of John that He might fulfill all righteonsness (Math. III, 15). The Spirit abides upon Him, and the Father testifies, "Thou art My Beloved Son, in Thee I am well pleased."

LESSON IV.—The Early Ministry of Jesus (Luke iv, 14-29). Golden Text, Luke iv, 32, "His word was with power." Being full of the Spirit He was led by the Spirit into the wilderness to be tried. We desire to be filled with the Spirit, but often forget that it involves trial. quered by the sword of the Spirit, let us become mighty in the use of the same.

Lesson V.-The Power of Josus (Luke , 17-20). Golden Text, Luke v. 21, "The Son of Man hath power upon earth to for-give sins." Between last lesson and this we see demons and fevers and diseases of all kinds fleeling at His word; even the leper is made clean. The fishes of the sea also obey Him and fill Peter's net. Peter and James and John follow Him more fully.

LESSON VI.—The Sermon on the Plain (Luke vi, 41-40). Golden Text, Luke vi, 46, "Why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?" See in v, 30, and vi, 11, the increasing opposition and latred of the self righteons against the meek and lowly one. While this serlost caste by reason of his infirmities and makes a living more or less precarious mon is the same in substance as the one on the mount (Math. v, to vii) it is evident similar superstitional occupations. by our words (I John iii, 16-18).

LESSON VIII.—Faith Encouraged (Lake viii, 43-55). Golden Text, Luke viii, 48-"Thy faith hath made thee whole. Go in pence" He is ever going about doing good (Acts x. 38), healing the sick, casting out demons, raising the dead to life and preaching the glad tidings of the kingdom of God. Here is a case of life cibing away for 12 years, and another of life steadily developing for the same period, but unit each touches Him there is nothing endur ing to either. He only can give real life that will endure forever, but He can and will if we are willing. Hear His "Fear not: believe only," and say, "I will trust and not be afraid."

LESSON IX. -- Jesus, the Messiah (Luke ix, 18-27). Golden Text, Luke ix, 35,
"This is my beloved Son; hear Him."
Observe in verse 11 how He continues preaching and healing, then see Him feed the 5,000 men, the only miracle recorded in each of the four gospels, and if you would be used by Him to feed the multi tudes learn from this lesson the secret of losing your life, denying self, bearing the cross daily. It is either Christ or 1, or flesh, the Father or the world. L by being tied to the great toes of cross glories of the kingdom as seen in the trans-figuration take such hold of you that you will gladly die to self.

LESSON X .- True Love to One's Neighber (Luke x, 25-37). Goldon Text, Luke x, 27, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbor as thy-eif." A good lesson.
